The Democrats feel anxious about Ohio
They will feel worse than that next October.

Glover went deep for fraud, and found it, but it happened that it was Democratic fraud, and there is where the laugh comes in.

Mr. Tilden don't propose to waste any money on Ewing this fall. He looks upon Ohio as a barren field for the Democrats this year.

A Delegate Convention from the Seventeenth Senatorial District, has been called to meet at the court house on the afternoon of the 18th.

If quinine should continue to rise, Judge Davis will be robbed of a platform for 1880. He intended to go it on cheap quinine, but the bottom has fallen out of that.

Senator Carpenter is so full of law business that he can find no time to fool away the summer at watering-places. His docket is full of important cases, and the Senator is on a rush for most of the hours each day out of the twenty-four.

Can anyone prophesy how many more spliffs there will be in the Democratic party by the time the nominating Convention arrives in 1880? Speaker Randall has made another split since Congress adjournd. It now seems certain that Fate will not allow even the Democratic party to die in peace.

For the one hundredth and fortieth time we are told that Edison's electric light is a success. If these reports are true, this faring inventor should make a practical application of his great invention. If his light is perfect, why not transfer his operations from Menlo Park to New York or some other city?

The Milwaukee Sentinel, which always peeps through Democratic spectacles, says there is an end of Republicanism in this country. The Sentinel should have reserved its opinions until after 1880. By that time it will be powerfully impressed with the idea that it and the Milwaukee News have been barking up the wrong tree.

The Chicago Times of Wednesday contained another communication from this State, written in the interest of Ludington.
It tries to see that calling the Convention on the 23d of July is the work of the Smiths men. Whose work was it calling the Convention on the 7th of July, 1875, when Ludington was nominated? It did not seem too early then.

The great contest in the South next year will be between Tilden's barrel on one hand, and Thurman and Bayard on the other. There are a good many papers and prominent men in the South saying they won't have Tilden; but when the barrel is put in the field, they may yield to its seductive influence, and shout for joy that Sammy has been nominated.

Just at this particular time, the crops are attracting the attention of the country.
Standing above all other considerations at present, is the crop question. A good yield and fair prices will do much to give the nation a push toward greater prosperity; while a small yield, and indifferent quality, and poor prices, will operate reversely.
When farmers prosper, all other departments of business are invigorated.

The Fond du Lac Commonwealth in an editorial note says: "Entire trustworthy information from Oshkosh, Appleton, Nee-nah, Clinton and Menasha, is to the effect that in these localities nobody doubts Gov.
Smith will have a solid delegation from Winnebago, Outagamie and Calumet counties. In that district it is reported nearly everyone looks with disfavor upon ex-Gov. Ludington's attempt to pull the temple down upon himself and friends as well as upon his enemies."

THE PIONEER MEETING.

A meeting of the Wisconsin pioneers will be held in Madison on the 16th of July, which will be Wednesday of next week. The history of the movement is this: At a meeting of the surviving members of the First and the Second Constitutional Conventions, held at Madison in February, it was decided to invite all Territorial officers and the members of the Territorial Legislatures, and also of the State Legislatures, up to now including the year 1850, to meet at the same time and place for a social reunion. A Pioneer Association was likewise formed during the past winter, when it was decided to hold a meeting at the Capitol, on the 16th instant.

The object of the Pioneer Association is to secure personal records, memoirs, and statistics of pioneer times for permanent preservation. Before this Association George B. Smith will deliver an address appropriate for the occasion. That it will be full of interesting facts and choice reminiscences, there is no doubt. The old pioneers of Janesville, and of all other portions of Rock county, are invited to attend this Association. They will be cordially welcomed and handsomely entertained. The railway companies have volunteered to convey these old veterans to Madison at half fare, and hotels have promised to be generous in making charges. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance, as the occasion will be one of signal importance to all the old settlers who attend the meeting.

DESERVING A RENOMINATION.

There seems to be no doubt that the present State officers will be renominated.
There is no reason why they should not be. If faithful service, ability in the administration of public affairs, and unimpeachable honesty, are worth an acknowledgment from the people of Wisconsin, then the present State officers should be honored with a renomination, and we have every reason to believe they will be. Rock county has a deep interest in this matter. The Republicans demand ability and faithfulness in a public officer, and when one holds sacred the trust reposed in him they stand ready to say "Well done." The sentiment in this county is very strongly in favor of putting in nomination Governor Smith and the other members of his administration. The honor is not only deserved, but there is great personal strength in the ticket. Each has made much political capital since the administration went into power, by simply attending strictly to the duties of his office. Mr. Whitford, for whom our people entertain a high regard, has made one of the best Superintendents of Public Instruction ever elected to that office in this State. This statement is not made for the reason that he is a citizen of Rock county, but because it is a fact, and is substantiated by many of the best educators of the State, irrespective of party affiliation. He is a thorough scholar, an accomplished gentleman, and a practical man, and has performed the duties of his office with credit to himself and satisfaction to the people of both parties. We hope to see him renominated that honor may be given to whom honor is due.

We trust there will be no division in Rock county on the question of renomina-ting the entire list of officers. So far the indications point very strongly to a unanimous feeling in favor of rewarding these faithful public servants with a second term.
It is not only right that this should be done, but it is certain that it is the strongest ticket the Republicans can put in the field.

SOME POSTAL MATTERS.

The postmaster of New York city considering himself the autocrat of the postal service of the United States. In his own estimation he is a bigger man than Postmaster General Key. He wants it understood that he is the ruling spirit of the service, and that what he suggests should be adopted without hesitation or questions by the Postmaster General. This New York official, this embodiment of so much wisdom, was the first man in the United States who refused to receive the trade dollar, under any circumstances whatsoever, for postage stamps. He next undertook to throw out all the letters dropped in the New York postoffice which did not bear the name of the county in which the city or town was located. A letter directed to "John Smith, Buffalo, New York," would be detained, because Erie county was not attached. If a person desired to communicate with the Governor of New York, and should write plainly on the face of the envelope, "Hon. Lucius Robinson, Albany, N. Y.," the great postmaster of New York city would regard this fatal, and would demand that "Albany county," be also written upon the face of the envelope.

The New York postmaster loomed up as an opponent to a more liberal postal policy, which was recommended by General Key and adopted by Congress. He wanted a harsh, close-fisted policy, and predicted that if Congress adopted a more liberal postal system, the department would suffer.
The Postmaster General has the pleasure of informing the would be Autocrat of the postoffice department, that his apprehensions were false and that a liberal policy has brought in liberal returns. It was asserted that the adoption of the postal card system would materially reduce the sale of stamps, and cripple the department. But look at the result. For the year ending June 30th, 1879, prior to the introduction of postal cards, the stamps sold reached $15, 840,000. For 1878, the sales were $16,931, 000, and postal cards, $310,940. For 1874, the first entire year in which postal cards were used, the sale of stamps reached $17,375,000, and postal cards, $910,790.
For the year 1878, or for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June of that year, the sale of stamps amounted to $19,468,000, and that of postal cards had reached the enormous sum of $2,006,300.
These facts show that the use of letters has been increased rather than decreased since the introduction of postal cards. In other words this illustrates that it pays the Government to adopt a generous postal policy.

THE DREAD DISEASE.

The First Death of the Season from Yellow Fever Occurred Yesterday at Memphis—Opinion of the Doctors —A Stampede from the City.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 9.—Intense excitement prevails over the fact that a death from a well-developed case of yellow fever occurred this morning. The deceased was named Frank Mulbrandon, a shoemaker, residing at the corner of DeSoto and Pontoto streets. He was taken sick while at work in his shop last Saturday, and, although receiving the best medical attention, died as stated today. An autopsy was held by Dr. W. E. Rogers, his attending physician, Drs. R. W. Mitchell, G. B. Thornton, W. B. Winn, D. D. Saunders, and T. J.
Lyne, and they all agree that it was yellow fever.

Dr. Mitchell, who is at the present time a member of the National Board of Health, and late Medical Director of the Howard Association, stated to your correspondent to-night at 10 o'clock that he had telegraphed the death to Washington as a sporadic case. He further said that no other case might develop, yet the mere fact of this one death will cause a panic.

An unusually large crowd went out on the midnight train to-night, and a general stampede is looked for to-morrow.

There are six remaining in the family of the deceased—a wife, four children and a sister-in-law. None of these have developed any symptoms of the disease, which in a measure sustains the opinion of the medical fraternity that the case to-day was a sporadic one. Mulbrandon was buried to-night at 9 o'clock, and his premises are being disinfected.

MURDER.

A Rock Island Man Murders His Sister and Shoots Himself.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 9.—This morning the town of Edgerton and surrounding country was thrown into a state of the wildest excitement by the news that Miss Robbins, a young lady aged 20 years, highly respected, had been shot by Lee Robbins, her brother, and instantly killed, and that Lee Robbins shot himself in the head and was dead. As nearly as could be ascertained, the facts are as follows:

Miss Matilda Robbins, the murdered girl, had for some time been receiving attentions from a young man named Tom Richards, against the expressed protest of her parents, and especially her brother.
She persisted in allowing Richards to call on her, however, and an engagement was announced. Her brother warned her that Richards should never marry her, and tried to persuade her to break the engagement, but to no purpose and today she was to have been married. This morning at 5:30 o'clock, while in her room getting ready to take the Mercer County train for Rock Island, her brother went to her and made an appeal not to marry the man Richards. She refused to break her word, and then he drew a pistol and shot her, killing her instantly. Then he placed the revolver at his head and fired, inflicting a wound from which he died half an hour afterward. The place where the murder and suicide happened is the Bolt-ingham farm, about three-fourths of a mile this side of Edgerton. The only objection to Richards, as far as could be learned, was that he was a distant man and a rough sort of a fellow. Lee Robbins, who did the deed, was a very pleasant, respectable young man, about 23 years old, and of a very modest manner. He stood well in the community, and had hosts of friends.

WHEAT.

The Upward Movement in The Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, July 9.—The upward movement in the wheat market continues unabated, and prices here have advanced 3/4¢ cents, chiefly for August and September delivery. Western crop report are favorable, but the steadily upward movement of Liverpool during the past two or three days stimulates speculation, and considerable confidence is felt in the future of the trade. The market opened at $1.00 1/2 @ 101 for No. spring seller August, and advanced to $1.02. September sold yesterday as low as 96 3/4¢, and to-day touched $1.00 3/4. Cash and July are not so buoyant, and the difference between July and August, which amounted to 5 c a few weeks ago, has diminished down to 1 c, September, in turn, being only 1 c below August. The "aborts" are going ashore rapidly, and this afternoon 150,000 bushels of July wheat was settled at $1.03.

MANTON MARBLE.

The Noted Editor is Quietly Married to a Wealthy Widow and Sails for Europe.

New York, July 9.—Manton Marble was very quietly married this morning at 7 o'clock to Mrs. A. Williams Lombard, a wealthy widow of this city, at St. Thomas Church, by the Rev. Dr. Morgan, rector of the church. The only other person present was the sexton, who stood in a distant vestibule. The bride and groom arrived in a carriage unattended by friends and as soon as the service was over entered the carriage and drove hastily away.
Both were dressed in very quiet street costumes. Between the time the church was opened for their reception, and closed after their departure hardly ten minutes elapsed. At 9 o'clock they took passage for their wedding tour in the French steamship Pereire. Marble's name did not appear in the cabin list of the Pereire which was published to-day.

THE DEAD PRINCE.

Arrival of the Remains of the Prince Imperial in England.

LONDON, July 9.—The troop-ship Oren-tes, having on board the body of the Prince Imperial, was sighted off Eddystone Light at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and is expected at Spithead at midnight, where the body will be transferred to the Admiralty yacht for conveyance to the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich.

LONDON, July 10.—The following are the official arrangements so far made for the Prince's funeral: The Eucharist will reach the Royal Arsenal at Woolwich between 5 and 7 o'clock Friday evening.
The coffin will be carried ashore by seamen to and isolated octagonal dome-roofed structure used as an armory by the Kent Rifle Volunteers. The interior of the building, which is only twenty feet in diameter, will be draped in black. The coffin will be opened immediately when it arrives here, and the corpse formally identified. There will be a few watchers, and sentries will remain in the armory all night, with a strong guard of honor of Royal Artillery outside. At about 5:30 Saturday morning the coffin will be placed on a gun-carriage, drawn by eight horses, and conveyed to Chislehurst, escorted by the Royal Horse Artillery.

MOUNT ETNA.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The United States Consul at Messina, sends to the Department of State an account of the recent eruption of Mount Etna. It broke out on the 26th of May and ceased on the 11th of June. In Messina the payments and balconies were covered with the black dust.
The villager near the mountains were shrouded in darkness and their inhabitants fled in terror. The damages are estimated at $200,000, toward which the Italian Parliament has contributed a large sum. The King gave personally $1,000; the City of Catania, $2,400, and the Archbishop, $400. On the 5th of June there was a serious earthquake. The earth opened and swallowed up houses and Luman beings. The charge is attributed to the undermining following the discharge of lava in large quantities.

OFFICE-SEEKERS.

The Troubles of Heads of Departments.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Heads of departments complain that they have been more troubled by applications for office from women this summer than at any previous time. Women were never employed in the departments until Secretary Chase inaugurated the system when he took charge of the Treasury. They are now in all the departments, and do the work equally as well as men. Heads of departments do not complain of their work, but they do complain of the unceasing begging for places, which at times becomes almost intolerable. Speaking of this matter, a member of the Cabinet says that when a man applies for a place and is told there is no vacancy and no prospect of one, and that it is useless to talk about it, he goes away and troubles no more, but a woman returns again and again, with a fresh story of distress, which in forty-nine cases out of fifty it is impossible for the official to relieve. It is estimated that for every woman in the departments there are two on the outside here waiting and watching for an opportunity for like employment. The moment there is a vacancy a grand rush follows, and every possible influence is brought to bear to get the place. At present there is no prospect of an increase of force in any of the departments, and women who come here expecting places are almost invariably disappointed. The first of the month fifteen ladies were discharged from the Treasury, there being nothing for them to do. Some of them were in such need that Congress voted them each an extra month's pay. Recently a member of the Cabinet was out of his office, when in came three Senators and five Representatives, all in quest of appointments for their friends. A message was dispatched for the Secretary with information of the descent of the Solons upon him, and their business. "I don't care if there are fourteen Senators and forty Congressmen," said the Secretary. "I had rather see a hundred men than one woman."

—Ten or fifteen new money order offices were established on the first of this month. Among them is that at Milton Junction.

—The Janesville militiamen do not propose to give up their drilling on account of honors won, but to do better than ever.

—Mr. Peter Clark died yesterday at his residence on Cherry street, and was buried this afternoon from St. Patrick's Catholic church. He has been ill but a short time.

—Young Maher's condition has changed but little since yesterday. He is kept quiet by opiates but suffers much at times. There is a possibility of his recovery though his condition is very precarious.

—Johnny Dyer went to-day to Chicago, where he will probably make his headquarters, as he has entered the service of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company. He will meet with success—so hope we all of us.

—The time of the mails for Center and Leyden has been changed somewhat. As at present arranged, the mail leaves for those places at 7 o'clock a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, returning on those days at 6 o'clock p. m.

—The milk wagons which roll through the city bear such legends as "Champion Dairy," "Leader Dairy," etc. It is strange that some of them don't adopt the "Boss Dairy," as that better indicates where the milk-drinkers want to get their supply from.

—John Morrissey, the ball player, returned to-day, and is heartily greeted. The Manchester disbanded last Saturday which accounts for his appearance here. He is looking as though the world used him pretty well, and as though he had been good to himself.

—The Lemars (Iowa) Sentinel contains the sad intelligence of the death of Col. Jonathan P. Scribner, on Sunday afternoon, June 29. Mr. Scribner was a resident of Janesville from 1853 to 1871. At the time of his death he had reached his sixty-ninth year.

—Last night there was a wedding in Beloit conducted by Rev. Elder Hall, by which Mr. James Lancy and Miss Minnie Bingham, of this city, were made one. James was doing the usual "setting up" with the boys to-day to mark the event. May a long and happy married life be theirs.

—The new "due postage stamps" are now being used here. When sufficient postage has not been paid on a letter the postmaster collects the amount on delivery and affixes these stamps and cancels them. The stamps are of a dark buff color, and the design is simply a circle within which is the number designating the denomination of the stamp.

—Last evening the members and friends of the First Methodist church held a social at the residence of Mr. J. G. Hayner. About seventy-five were present. The evening was passed very pleasantly in chit-chatting, music and ice-cream eating. Rev. Mr. Sewell read a selection. Mr. Rollins sang several songs, and Mr. Sargent gave some instrumental pieces. The society not only made somewhat of a financial success but succeeded much more happily in having a general good time.

—Hon. M. W. Sheafe, Jr., who formerly resided here, and whose father is still one of our well known citizens, has met with somewhat of a loss at Elk Point, Dakota, by the storm which recently raged there. It blew his warehouse off the foundations and carried it quite a distance leaving it on the railroad track. Mr. Sheafe is doing quite an extensive business there and is one of the prominent. He has a contract with Uncle Sam to turnish 11,000,000 pounds of flour, and his bonds are $30,000. He is engaged in various enterprises of like magnitude.

—Little Miss Ita Leech called our attention this morning to the fact that not only were Mr. George Rees's five children all on the roll of honor, but that there were also five children belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leech, who were on the roll, as not having missed a day or having had a tardy mark. The little girl's face brightened up with a pleasing show of enthusiasm and pride as she said: "If father had five more children able to go to school, they'd every one of them be on the roll of honor, too." Such a spirit in the home circle is a big help to those who have charge of the school-rooms, and the record of the five children is worthy of special mention.

—There is something in another column which everybody should read with care. It is signed by Smith & Bostwick, and they don't sign their names to anything unless they mean business, and they always do exactly as they say they will. So when they come before the public and show up their prices and tell of the quality of the goods they have, it makes good reading matter and attracts attention. Their stock of summer goods is large and varied, and in order to make room for other goods they announce a closing out sale, and name some prices as a sample of what they propose to do. The heated term has opened and there promises to be plenty of it, so those who haven't fully stocked up on summer goods should improve the chance. Smith & Bostwick are keeping up their stock in all lines and in prices and quality their goods need no lengthy newspaper send-off. They talk for themselves.

—A young theological student threw aside his books to-day and divided his time between mopping his brow, and framing the following effusion which he brought over to the Gazette on the run just in time to get it in press:

There may be a land hotter than this,
But we want it away very far,
But if reached, O, we hope there'll be found Lemonade and ice cream at the bar.

—Yesterday was the time appointed for the cold-water picnic of the Rock County Division of the Sons of Temperance at Clear Lake. There was a superabundance of water coming from above, and it interferred somewhat with the gathering, but clearing weather enabled two or three hundred people to gather on the grounds about noon, and a bountiful spread was partaken of. In the afternoon there was speech making and music. Rev. Jenk L. Jones presided, and Rev. A. L. P. Loomis opened the session with prayer. Rev. E. L. Eaton, of Beloit, Hon. S. D. Hastings, of Madison, Mrs. Beale, and Rev. Dr. Wardner gave short addresses. Rev. G. W. Lawrence made a few closing remarks and dismissed the congregation. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Milton Cornet Band, and was very acceptable. The boys though smooth faced did some good work and added much to the enjoyability of the occasion. It was decided by a unanimous vote to make these annual temperance picnics self-perpetuating, and to this end a committee was appointed with J. C. Plumb, of Milton, as Chairman, to arrange for a similar picnic gathering next year and to invite the co-operation of all other temperance organizations. In the evening the young folk indulged in a merry dance and a jovial social session.

—A NEW POSTOFFICE RULING.

Among the recent rulings of the Post-office Department is one which is of special interest to our business men. It is in regard to printed commercial papers, a portion of which is filled out with writing. Under this new ruling a printed promissory note or any insurance policy filled out ready for signature may be mailed as third class matter, but when they have been finally executed or countersigned by the person who finally approves them, so that they become the representative of a monetary value, they are subject to letter rates of postage, as being in the nature of a purely personal correspondence between the two parties interested. The same rule will apply to other printed commercial papers, such as drafts, checks, etc., and as to deeds, bonds, etc., whether drawn by public functionaries or private parties. A partly printed bill filled out in writing may be sent as third class matter, but when receipted can only be admitted to the mails at letter rates of postage.
